BottleDrop customers helping support Rogue Valley Communities

Donation to Rogue Valley Mountain Bike Association will support local bike trails

Clackamas, Ore. -- The Oregon Beverage Recycling Cooperative (OBRC), parent organization to BottleDrop, announced a $2,500 donation to the Rogue Valley Mountain Bike Association. The donation, generated through BottleDrop's Containers for Change program, will be used by the nonprofit to bring some love to Grants Pass' Loveless Park, supporting the development of bicycling amenities through the B-Street Jumps project.

"The B Street Jumps project is a perfect example of what is possible when a great nonprofit partners with local government to improve the community. We wanted to be part of that," said Eric Chambers, OBRC's Director of External Relations. "Our customers are amazingly generous, and Containers for Change provides a straightforward way for them to support organizations like this with funds from their bottles and cans."

BottleDrop's Containers for Change program provides Oregonians with an easy way to donate funds from their bottles and cans to excellent nonprofits operating in communities around the state. BottleDrop customers can participate by simply leaving their bag tag stickers off of their Green Bags, and dropping them off at any BottleDrop facility, like the Redemption Center in Grants Pass, Ore.

"We are overwhelmed by the amount of community support we have seen for this park improvement project," said Chad Thorson, Vice President of the Rogue Valley Mountain Bike Association. "The new trail system, designed by Dirt Mechanics out of Bend, Oregon, will bring diversity to the Grants Pass park system by providing a safe yet progressive trail and bicycle riding experience to a variety of riders with different skill levels. Construction is scheduled to begin this fall."
